Touristic Advices (if you spend your week end in Barcelona)

If you arrive the weekend!

11th September in Catalunya (a lot of concerts and happenings!)

<http://www10.gencat.cat/gencat/AppJava/en/esp/11set/home11.jsp>

Nits de Ramadan (it finishes the Ramadan and Barcelona organizes a lot of activities)

http://www.iemed.org/activitats/2010/Nits_ramada/e programa.php

On Sunday afternoon a lot of museums are open for free:

<http://www.bcn.cat/museus/diumengestarda/>

Go and have a walk in the Gracia neighborhood, it was an old village next to Barcelona that has been integrated into the town but it keeps the structure of the village with tiny streets and nice squares. A lot of places where you can do shopping.

Las Ramblas are the center of the town have a walk but be careful with pickpocket...

Mercat La Boqueria magic and colorful place, have a walk, look, taste...

Museu Picasso <http://www.museupicasso.bcn.es/> (nice museum in typical old style barcelona buildings)

Casa Batlló <http://www.casabatllo.es/> (with casa mila/pedrera typical modernist house, not cheap but amazing!)

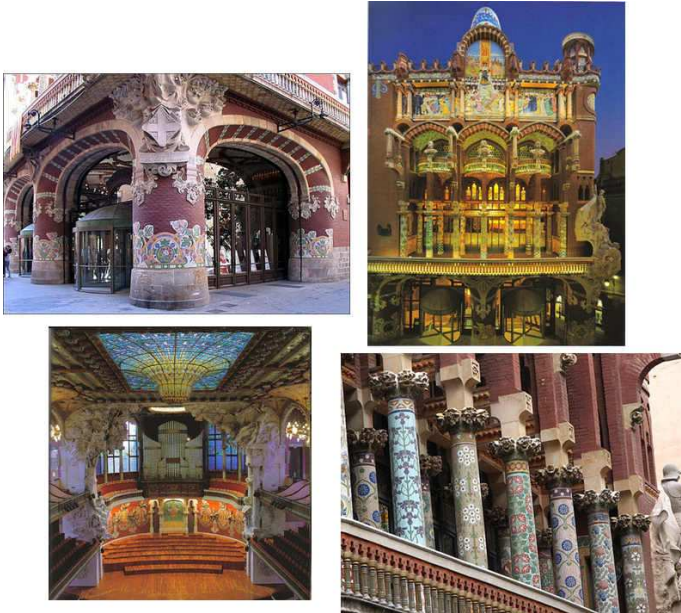

Parc Guell modernist garden

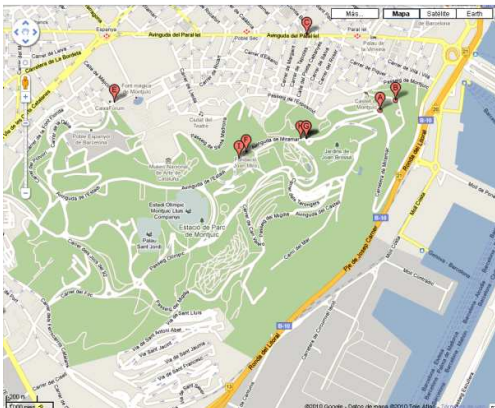

Sagrada Familia <http://www.sagradafamilia.cat/>

Palau de la Musica Catalana <http://www.palaumusica.org/>

Panorama from Miramar (Montjuic)

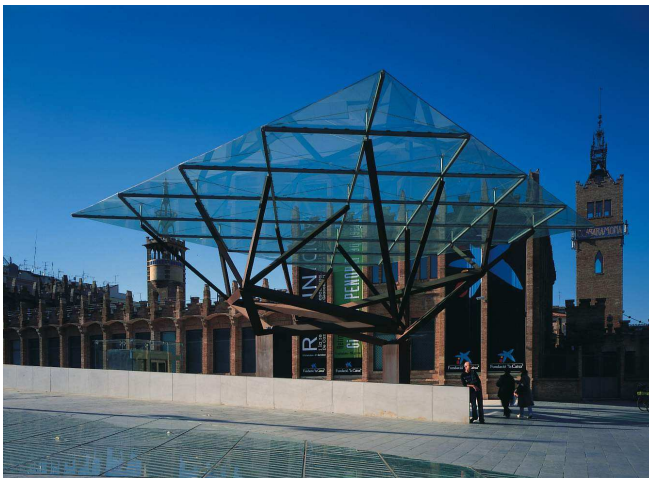

Font Magica (plaça de Espanya) http://www.barcelona-travel-tips.com/fuente_magica.html

Museu Maritim <http://www.mmb.cat/> (nice museum with a nice garden bar outside)

Caixa Forum, old modernist factory, now free exposition museum

Practical Advices

Transports-> a ticket called T10 is valid for 10 rides on bus/tram/underground, it costs 7.95 and can be shared between different people, there are also tickets for 2-3 days

Bike-> a lot of rental of bikes are available in town, bike it's very practical in Barcelona, but be careful they're easily stolen.
